Dear Dr Anzhela Soloveva ,

Your registration reference number is: ROM/0/26001420

As part of the ESC Cardiologists of Tomorrow (CoT) initiative, we are delighted to confirm your free registration to attend ESC Congress 2016 to be held in Rome, Italy, from 27-31 August 2016.

BADGES

You can collect your congress badge directly at the congress centre in the Registration Area. A voucher enabling you to do so will be emailed to you after this confirmation. Please ensure that you PRINT THIS VOUCHER and present it on your first day of attendance, at the Badge Printing Desk in the Registration Area.

Your free REGISTRATION entitles you to:

- Registration fee: Free (Actual fee 665 Euros at early fee registration)
- Online journal subscription for 2017 to either the European Heart Journal (EHJ) or Cardiovascular Research (CVR). An upgrade to the Paper version of your chosen journal can be selected for an extra fee of € 229 (EHJ) or € 198 (CVR) when registering.

Please note that the ESC is granting you free registration to ESC Congress 2016 but cannot cover your travel, accommodation or other expenses.

CONGRESS PROGRAMME

PUBLIC TRANSPORT PASS

A public transport pass is included in all full congress registrations and will be delivered during the Congress. The transportation pass will consist of 10 single journey tickets. You can pick them up as a bag insert in your Congress bag upon collection at the Congress venue (Fiera di Roma) in the Registration Area.

They will allow you to travel on the regional train lines, buses, trams and metros within Rome city limits. The Congress venue is the last stop on the FL1 regional train line within Rome city limits.

Although Fiumicino (Leonardo da Vinci) airport is also on this FL1 regional train line, it is outside of Rome city limits, and therefore, the transportation pass is not valid for airport travel.

Please note that they will not be sent in advance.

More information about the CoT Programme can be found following the link here below:
